

Ubiquity Global Sustainability Challenge (USGC) Official Rules and Regulations

Introduction

It is the participant's responsibility to read and to abide by these guidelines. Participation in the Ubiquity Global Sustainability Challenge (UGSC) means that the participants have read and agree to these guidelines. The UGSC is void where prohibited or restricted by law. A PURCHASE WILL NOT INCREASE YOUR CHANCES OF WINNING.

Ubiquity University ("Ubiquity") is the entity offering the UGSC. While not anticipated, Ubiquity reserves the right to update, add, or subtract from these guidelines at any time and may reject the submission of any project or business idea if it violates the Ubiquity Code of Ethics, is not explicitly related to achievement of one or more of the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (UN SDGs), or if such rejection is determined to be in the best interests of Ubiquity.

Ubiquity also reserves the right to cancel or modify the UGSC if fraud or technical failures impair the integrity of the UGSC as determined by Ubiquity, in its sole discretion, and to award the Grand Award based on Eligible Entries received prior to the cancellation.

These Official Rules and Regulations were last updated on July 31, 2018.

Purpose

The Ubiquity Global Sustainability Challenge (UGSC) is a program only for students enrolled in Ubiquity University. Student is defined as any individual who is enrolled in, and successfully completes, any single micro-course or trimester course with a passing score in the academic year of the award cycle in which they choose to participate in the UGSC. Academic year is defined as our September, January and May trimesters. (For example, the UGSC 2019 cycle corresponds to September 2018, January 2019 and May 2019 trimesters.)

The UGSC is designed to enable students to develop projects and/or entrepreneurial ideas designed to advance the achievement of one or more of the UN SDGs. It is intended for very early-stage project ideas or business ventures. All submissions are judged on their merits and in accordance with our stated criteria by an independent expert panel who will select a single, First Place Award Recipient Team.

The UGSC is not a sweepstakes and entry into the UGSC does not constitute entry into any other promotion, competition or sweepstakes. By participating in the UGSC, each Participant unconditionally accepts and agrees to comply with, and abide by, the Official Rules and Regulations of the UGSC, the decisions of Ubiquity University, the decisions of the judging panel and/or any other individual or entity appointed by Ubiquity University whose decisions shall be final, and legally binding in all respects, and not subject to further review in any forum.

Eligibility

1. Only Ubiquity students may participate in the UGSC.
2. Current Ubiquity life-long learners, undergraduate or graduate students working towards a Micro-Certificate, Certificate, BA, MA, MBA or PhD program can enter in teams of no less than two and no more than five. Students may be part-time, or full-time, and must take at least one micro-course or trimester course at Ubiquity in any given academic year (defined as Fall thru Spring) to participate in that year's UGSC. Student teams can enter only one project and/or business idea in each UGSC round. All team members must also meet these eligibility requirements.
3. All participants must be over the age of 18, or no less than age of majority in the jurisdiction applicable to the participant, on or prior to the December 31, deadline to declare their intent to participate in that year's UGSC, or December 31 of any subsequent years.
4. Students may have the opportunity to participate in several UGSC rounds during their tenure as an enrolled student at Ubiquity. Teams may not present identical project ideas and/or business ventures in future rounds unless those concepts are significantly modified from the original.
5. Teams who are in receipt of any monetary awards in the UGSC are not eligible to enter in subsequent years. Individuals may join a different team and submit a different project in subsequent years.
6. Although Ubiquity personnel and faculty may be engaged in various activities designed to support students as they participate in the UGSC, no Ubiquity employees and/or their immediate family members, independent contractors, and/or others closely affiliated with Ubiquity are eligible to be included in any submissions, nor are they eligible to receive any funds, shares of award money, monetary commissions, consulting fees, or any other direct monetary remuneration for any assistance offered to students. Faculty shall not be independently solicited to provide outside assistance in the preparation of any submissions beyond normal coursework students are already enrolled in. Such solicitation or faculty input can be considered grounds for disqualification.
7. All eligibility is subject to all international, federal, state or local laws and regulations over which Ubiquity has no control. Participants are expected to familiarize themselves with the applicable laws in their countries of origin and/or residence prior to participating in the UGSC. Ubiquity reserves the right, in our sole discretion, to disqualify any submissions that are determined to be unlawful in any jurisdictions that may apply to participants.
8. Participant(s) entry into the UGSC is conditioned on proof of citizenship and residency, as applicable, in order to allow Ubiquity the right (but not the obligation) to determine whether Participants may enter into and receive the award pursuant to any applicable laws. Ubiquity reserves the right, in its sole discretion and judgement, to disqualify any Participant from the UGSC due to applicability of laws and regulations which might put Ubiquity at any risk, as determined in its sole discretion.

UGSC Structure

Program participants must declare their intent to participate by 12:00 PM Midnight Pacific Time on December 31 of the Award Year and are required to submit a series of documents by the final submission deadline of 5:00 PM Pacific Time on May 31, for that year's Award.

UGSC participants will be able to review their materials prior to submission, but once any material is officially submitted, participants cannot access/revise such entry in any way. Tampering with the submission process or the operation of the UGSC is prohibited and any submissions deemed by Ubiquity, in its sole discretion, to have been submitted in such a manner will be void. In the event a dispute regarding the identity of the individual who actually submitted materials cannot be resolved to Ubiquity's satisfaction, the affected party/parties will be deemed ineligible.

By participating, all participants release Ubiquity, Judges, Administrators, Funders, and their parent, subsidiary and affiliated entities including, all of their respective shareholders, officers, directors, employees, agents, contractors, attorneys, successors and assigns (the "Released Parties") from and against all claims and damages arising out of or in connection with each of the participant's UGSC related activities and/or participation in the UGSC and/or his/her/their receipt, use or results of the use of the Grand Award monetary prize awarded in the UGSC.

All entries are subject to verification and approval by Ubiquity. Entries that do not meet the requirements, or otherwise do not comply with the Official Rules and Regulations herein, will be disqualified. Any attempted form of entry other than as described in these Official Rules and Regulations is void. Ubiquity will determine, in its sole discretion, what constitutes a valid submission.

Ubiquity is not responsible for problems downloading or uploading any UGSC-related information to or from the web site, or any other software application, or for any other technical malfunctions of electronic equipment, computer on-line systems, servers, or providers, computer hardware or software failures, phone lines, failure of any electronic mail to be received by Ubiquity on account of technical problems, traffic, congestion on the internet or the web site, or any other technical problems related to web site entries including telecommunication miscommunication or failure, and failed, lost, delayed, incomplete, garbled or misdirected communications which may limit a participants ability to fully engage in the UGSC.

Wireless carriers' rate plans may vary, and you should contact your wireless carrier for more information on messaging rate plans and charges related to your participation in the UGSC. Project Ideas and/or Business Venture Requirements

All project ideas and/or business ventures submitted to the UGSC must be original student ideas and substantially developed by students. Co-development with non-students or any others must be fully disclosed to determine if the contribution of any others was/is substantial or outweighs contributions of the submitter(s).

Judges

Preliminary round judges and the five-judge blue-ribbon panel in the final round will have expertise in the UN SDGs, with NGOs, social entrepreneurship, start-ups and/or businesses that embrace sustainable principles, or with general business expertise.

Judging Criteria

The criteria used by these expert judges in their evaluation are:

- Innovation: Is the idea novel and does it present an original take on potential solutions?
- Relevance: Are the UN SDGs clearly and explicitly referenced and does the idea represent a solution that will directly impact the SDGs in question?
- Populations Affected: How many individuals or communities does the solution have the potential to positively impact?
- Passion: How driven and passionate are the teams about their idea or potential solution?
- Probability of Success: What are the chances that the project idea or business venture will be successful?
- Scalability: If successful, what is the potential for scalability?
- Completeness and Timeliness: Was the submission process followed and were all components submitted on time?

Judges will rank each element on a range between 0 and 100. Scores will be added to determine the Award Recipient Team. In the case of a tie, the judges will confer and select the final Award Recipients. Their decision will be final.

GRAND AWARD RECIPIENTS WILL BE ANNOUNCED ON, OR ABOUT, JULY 31, 2019.

Grand Award

1. Decided by the five-judge panel during the final round, the first-place team will receive $25,000.00 USD (twenty-five thousand dollars).
2. Award money will be distributed equally among the team members or the total will be issued to a non-profit or business entity formed by the Award Recipients depending on the Award Recipients preference. Teams have until September 1, after Award announcement in any UGSC year, to form a non-profit or business entity should they desire to do so (unless otherwise approved). If the team Award Recipients fail(s) to, or choose(s) not to, form a non-profit or business entity, the award will be divided equally and issued directly to the individuals who compose the team.

3. By entering into the Challenge, the team Award Recipients hereby grant Ubiquity and its affiliates an irrevocable right of first refusal to invest in any round of debt or equity financing on terms at least as favorable as all other potential investors in business entities formed as a direct result of the UGSC. Participant Award Recipients shall enter into a binding agreement with typical commercially reasonable terms as determined by Ubiquity further evidencing this right as a condition of receiving the award.

4. Each team-member will be required to provide appropriate documentation, which may include social security numbers in the United States, or other personally identifiable information, to receive their award payment as required by law in their country of origin. For example, in the United States an Internal Revenue Service (IRS) Form 1099 will be issued in the Award Recipient's names or organization's name and recipients may need to provide W-9 and/or EIN forms as required. This serves as the team's award agreement.

5. All individuals who are part of a team and/or their resultant non-profit or business entities are completely responsible for any tax consequences of the Award.

6. ALL AWARDS ARE AWARDED "AS IS" AND WITHOUT WARRANTY OF ANY KIND, EXPRESS OR IMPLIED (INCLUDING, WITHOUT LIMITATION, ANY IMPLIED WARRANTY OR MERCHANTABILITY OR FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE).

Award Recipients Notification

In addition to public announcement on the Ubiquity web site, Ubiquity will notify the individuals on the team named as the "Award Recipients" via email and/or by phone requesting confirmation of each team-member's name and mailing address. Each individual Potential Award Recipient on the team is/are subject to verification. Each individual on the team deemed Potential Award Recipients will be required to complete, sign and return an Affidavit of Eligibility/Liability Release, and, where lawful, a Publicity Release and (in the United States) W-9 tax-payer request for identification and/or other documentation required by the applicable country of jurisdiction, within (7) days of attempted notification, unless otherwise approved by Ubiquity. If individuals on the Potential Award Recipient team fail to respond to any notification attempt within 72 hours, or if any attempted notification or Award delivery is returned as undeliverable, or if any individual on the team fails to complete and return any required affidavit or release within the specified time period, the entire team of Potential Award Recipients may be disqualified and an alternate team may be selected as the Award Recipient from the remaining Eligible submissions.

Consistent with our purposes, Ubiquity will evaluate the project ideas and/or business venture ideas based on the social purpose and impact around the UN SDGs and will not accept any submissions that it deems, in its sole discretion, to be unethical, not directly related to the advancement of the UN SDGs, or contrary to local, state, national or international law.

5. In addition, Ubiquity reserves the right to reject any submission for reasons including, but not limited to, if the submission or any part of the submission, is deemed to be in violation of Ubiquity University's Code of Ethics, violates any local, state, national or international law, or is not complete, or does not present sufficient content.
